Post-EMS acquisition outlook maintained

Post period-end (see ED report 22nd November, 'SATCOM deal is Group's largest acquisition') Cohort announced a conditional sale and purchase agreement to acquire Australian satellite communications specialist EM Solutions (Europe) B.V., for an enterprise value of c.£75.0m. We revised up our outlook accordingly and raised our Fair Value to 1090p/share. The acquisition took the Group pro forma order book to above £650m. We estimate that EMS should contribute £10.2m in revenue and £2.5m to (adj.) EBIT in H2 25, and in FY26, £40.2m and £8.7m respectively.

Recent events a reminder of the focus on UK defence security

Recent events in Syria, the ongoing conflicts in Israel the Ukraine, and with persisting tension in the Far East / Asia Pacific region, serve as reminders of the importance to the UK of retaining an efficient and modernised defence capability. This is currently the subject of a government review, ranging from conventional land and naval forces to cyber security and electronic warfare, all of which are reflected in Cohort's capabilities, in addition to which the Group retains strong overseas ties; at the interim c.37% of revenue.

Our Fair value / share of 1090p is indicative of a FY26E PE of 19.0x compared to a peer group market cap weighted average of 22.2x, and EV/EBITDA of 10.1x, compared to 12.5x¹.

Communications & Intelligence Division

The Communications & Intelligence division, comprising subsidiaries EID, MASS and MCL in H1 (with the subsequent addition of EMS), reported:

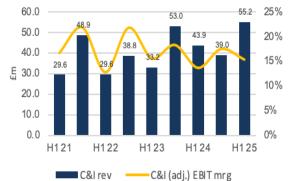

- Revenue of £55.2m, +26%YoY.
- (adj.) EBIT of £8.5m, +41%YoY, 15.4% margin compared to 13.7% a year earlier, i.e. margin improvement adding c£1.m in EBIT.
- The order book increased from £108.8m in April to £134.4m reflecting the contribution from orders from the Portuguese Navy, which should also move EID into profitability for the full year following a first-half loss.

Revenue performance was driven predominantly by UK MOD spend, underpinned by the contribution from MCL, also responsible for improved profitability.

- Revenue of £64.2m, +26%YoY.
- (adj.) EBIT of £5.3m, +1.3x, 8.3% margin compared to 4.5% in H1 24.

C&I profit outlook boosted by EMS acquisition

Below illustrates semi-annual (H1 21 - H1 25) and annual (FY20 - FY26E) (adj.) EBIT margin trends for the Communications & Intelligence and Sensors & Effectors divisions.

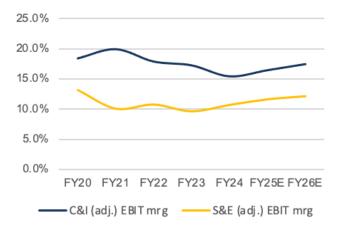

- Second half earnings weighting. H2 typically results in (adj.) EBIT at c.3x H1: H2 21, 3.3x, H2 22, 8x, H2 23 2.8x, H2 24, 2.8x.
- We note the positive impact of EMS acquisition. We estimate that EMS should contribute £10.2m in revenue and £2.5m to (adj.) EBIT in H2 25, and in FY26, add £40.2m to revenue and £8.7m to (adj.) EBIT.
- Consequently, post-acquisition our Group FY26 (adj.) EBIT outlook is £35.7m, a 12.7% margin; in the absence of the contribution from EMS, we estimate that Group (adj.) EBIT would have been £28.6m, an 11.9% margin.
- Cohort stated that it is expected that the tax-adjusted ROIC on the acquisition should exceed WACC of 10.6% in the 3rd full financial year post completion (2027/28); we estimate 16.3%.

Interim dividend +11.7%YoY

With a proposed Interim dividend of 5.25p/share (H124: 4.70p/share) Cohort maintained its progressive dividend policy. Dividend cover in FY23 was 2.2x, in FY24 2.7x; and we estimate 2.4x for FY25.

Cashflow: cash continued to build

As illustrated below, repeating the pattern of previous periods, sound cashflow management contributed at all levels to retain a healthy cash balance:

- Profit from operations contributed £6.8m compared to £2.9m a year earlier.
- Operating cashflow of £13.1m: £10.3m in H1 24.
- An increase in inventories of £6.0m, and payables of £22.1m resulting in a £21.7m overall increase in working capital resulting in a cash inflow of £34.7m (H1 24: £10.5m) due principally to timing effects; advance payments were received, notably in Sensors & Effectors ahead of project work for the remainder of the financial year.
- Capital spending of £3.6m was ahead the previous year (£2.7m) reflecting planned work on the ELAC SONAR submarine communications test tank facility (c.£20m over 2022-2025).
- Dividends paid of £4.1m combined with capex and paid-down debt of £5.0m resulted in £12m use of cash (before forex) and a period-end cash position of £49.2m (net £37.9m) compared to net at the FY24 year-end of £23.1m.

We estimate the FY25 net debt position, post-EMS acquisition, at £10.3m, reverting to net cash of £9.9m in FY26.

"The SDR will determine the roles, capabilities and reforms required by UK Defence to meet the challenges, threats and opportunities of the twenty-first century, deliverable and affordable within the resources available to Defence within the trajectory to 2.5%. The Review will ensure that Defence is central both to the security, and to the economic growth and prosperity, of the United Kingdom."

The review defines a number of clear parameters: commitment to the independent UK nuclear deterrent, a 'NATO first' approach, reinforcing homeland security, continuing support for Ukraine, maintaining defence ties with the Indo-Pacific region, the Gulf and the Middle East, and delivering AUKUS. Of eight major themes covering key issues the fifth concerns:

• The approach to be taken to acquisition and support in order to deliver the required capabilities in a timely way, and how to secure the best possible value for money and rapidly changing technology.

The Royal United Services Institute (RUSI)² concludes that the government "chose to conduct a defence-focused review because of the scale of the steps it believes will be required to transform the MoD and the Armed Forces" to create an "integrated force". Against this background, as itemised by the UK Defence Journal³, the respective forces branches face a number of challenges; UKDJ highlights number of examples:

• "The Royal Navy and Royal Fleet Auxiliary are struggling. At the time of writing [17 September], none of the UK's Astute-class hunter-killer submarines is deployed. Four of our six destroyers and four of the remaining nine frigates are temporarily out of action, as are both amphibious assault ships of the Albion-class. The RFA is seeing more and more of its ships laid up due to a lack of funds, and those few ships that can sail are now lacking crew as the RFA demands better pay from the new government (having watched the NHS and train drivers get above-inflation pay rises in recent months, despite the new Chancellor stating there is a £20bn black hole in the UK's finances). The Army is not much better off. Now at its smallest size since the 1800s with just 73,000 full time personnel, tough choices must be made about equipping troops and deployments overseas" and "The RAF will no doubt be watching the SDR with concern. The MoD remains committed to the initial 48 F-35Bs, with a second batch of jets being discussed since 2022 for delivery by 2033. C-130 is now gone completely, and there is no firm commitment to buying more A400M Atlas transports yet."

"work with the financial and related professional services sector"4

The response from the private sector is illustrated by TheCityUK⁴ which recommends that Government should "work with the financial and related professional services sector" to align its objectives with the "realities of financial markets and the motivations of different classes of investor", notably to: "Build domestic and international investor confidence through a long-term strategic public-private narrative for UK defence" and "promote competition within the defence ecosystem by increasing private investment in SMEs and the supply chain, by supporting and leveraging private investment opportunities in emerging dual-use technologies and defence-related infrastructure".

In the preparation of this report ED has taken professional efforts to ensure that the facts stated herein are clear, fair and not misleading, but makes no guarantee as to the accuracy or completeness of the information or opinions contained herein.

Any reader of this research should not act or rely on this document or any of its contents. This report is being provided by ED to provide background information about the subject of the research to relevant persons, as defined by the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Financial Promotions) Order 2005. Nor shall it, or any part of it, form the basis of, or be relied on in connection with, any contract or commitment whatsoever.

Research produced and distributed by ED on its client companies is normally commissioned and paid for by those companies themselves ('issuer financed research') and as such is not deemed to be independent as defined by the FCA but is 'objective' in that the authors are stating their own opinions.
